ABOUT US

Flat Earth Theatre was created in 2006 by long time friends and theatre enthusiasts Kevin Mullins and Jake Scaltreto. The pair had discussed the possibility of coming together to work on a theatre project for some time, but it never really got off the ground.

Finally, in the summer of 2006, they decided it was time to get something done. What began as a call for actors on Craigslist evolved into a stunning performance of Mullins's Joe less than a month later.

To follow up on the success of Joe, Flat Earth decided this summer to bring comedy to the black box at the Arsenal Center for the Arts. All in the Timing was an easy choice as their second production. With an amazing cast of dedicated actors, Flat Earth began the task of producing what is sure to be a most entertaining and hilarious show.

Extra special thanks goes out to our Technical Director, Leigh Downes, as well as to Connor Van Ness and Nick Bacon. We would also like to thank the multitude of people who have helped make this show possible, a few of which are named on the back of this program.
